

Marie-Luise Angerer is Professor for Media and Cultural Studies at the Academy of Media Arts Cologne. Her research and publications focus on affect & media technologies as well as on the entanglement of representation and materiality.

Deborah Gould is Associate Professor of Sociology at the University of California, Santa Cruz. She is currently working on a project that looks at political affinities and reciprocities across chasms of difference. She was involved in ACT UP/Chicago for many years and is a founding member of the research/art/activism collaborative group, Feel Tank Chicago.

Encarnación Gutiérrez Rodríguez is Professor of Sociology at the University Gießen. In her research and publications she engages with questions of the local face of global inequalities, queer-feminist decolonial epistemology and critical intersectional approaches to migration and diaspora studies.

ICI Kulturlabor Berlin
ICI Berlin Institute for Cultural Inquiry
Christinenstr. 18/19, Haus 8
D-10119 Berlin
Tel: +49 30 473 72 91 10
www.ici-berlin.org
U-Bhf Senefelder Platz (U2)

Co-organized by ICI Berlin, MPIB and ZtG

Max-Planck-Institut für Bildungsforschung
Max Planck Institute for Human Development

ici KULTURLABOR
BERLIN INSTITUTE FOR CULTURAL INQUIRY

Workshop & Discussion

27 June 2013

Workshop: 10 am – 5.30 pm

Roundtable Discussion:

7 pm – 9 pm

In English

Reworking Affect

Queer-Feminist
Engagements

Queer-feminist engagements aim at transforming sexualized, gendered, classed and racialized regimes. Given the current turn in the humanities and social sciences towards affect and emotions, how crucial is (reworking) affect for this endeavor and how does affect then work? Are affects and emotions spontaneous and unruly or are they rather molded by historically and socially specific dynamics and codes of intelligibility? In what ways are the social, the economic, and the political created, enforced or transformed by e.g. anger, despair, shame, or pleasure? This event interrogates queering affect as work, as something that works, and as something that we can work with.

Thursday
27 June 2013

Workshop: 10 am – 5:30 pm
Roundtable Discussion: 7 pm – 9 pm

In English

Organized by

Brigitte Bargetz
(Humboldt-University Berlin)

Magdalena Freudenschuss
(Centre for Digital Cultures, Leuphana University Lüneburg)

Benno Gammerl
(Max Planck Institute for Human Development Berlin)

Jochen Kleres
(Humboldt-University Berlin)

Volker Woltersdorff
(ICI Berlin)

Programme

10:00 Morning Coffee

10:15 – 11:00 Introduction

11:00 – 12:30 Marie-Luise Angerer
(Academy of Media Arts, Cologne)
Representation and Affect.
Or: Blind Gaze vs. Blind Emotion

12:30 – 14:00 Lunch Break

14:00 – 15:30 Encarnación Gutiérrez Rodríguez
(University Gießen)
Coding Value –
Sensing Devaluation:
On Affective Value

15:30 – 16:00 Break

16:00 – 17:30 Deborah Gould
(University of California, Santa Cruz)
On Moving Politics: Emotion, ACT
UP, and Beyond

17:30 – 19:00 Break

19:00 Welcoming by Ute Frevert and
Christoph Holzhey

19:15 Roundtable Discussion
with Marie-Luise Angerer,
Deborah Gould, and
Encarnación Gutiérrez Rodríguez
Queering Affect:
Does It Matter, Does It Work?

Please sign up for the workshop until the 20 June
2013 to presse@ici-berlin.org